Hardest Problem

Based on the Methodology and Discovery exercise you completed at the beginning of this activity, select an area of mathematics that is challenging for you and reproduce the same level of thinking that the Elevating Knowledge Methodology makes possible. (In other words, apply the methodology to an area of mathematics that is difficult for you.)